

Jenny Schlager

Discovering the opportunities of the new together in change- that is what motivates Jenny.

Jenny Schlager accompanies change processes with enthusiasm and energy, always putting people at the center. With her sociological background, she understands how to analyze the dynamics in teams and organizations and develop targeted solutions. In doing so, it opens our eyes to the opportunities that lie in change and promotes sustainable change. Her years of experience as a consultant give her the necessary expertise to successfully support companies in complex transformation processes.
