

Kerstin Schuster

Recognizing your own potential, getting into the driver's seat and putting your horsepower on the road- Kerstin supports you with passion and humour.

In every role, organization and situation, there is an opportunity to shape the future in the best way possible, based on your own strengths. An analytical look at the environment and the influencing factors helps to determine one's own potential. Kerstin's over 20 years of experience in HR leadership positions in international corporations, has sharpened her eye for organizational development, transformation, sustainable leadership and HR excellence. She knows that valuable HR work is always strategic and highly relevant to success. In her consulting work, she uses a full toolbox of experience and methods to ensure that the axis of work-people-company success is designed in a meaningful, promising and sustainable manner.
